

THE COPS' BEHAVIOR

Cops were caught on camera, stopping a man from hitting people with a hammer.

Then a cop was caught shooting an unarmed black man in Atlanta.

Are all cops bad?

You know the answer.

A cop was caught throwing a young black girl to the ground, putting his knees in her back, all 200 lbs.

A cop was recorded helping a single mother with her financial stress; he donated a thousand. She needed housing, so she bought it.

Are all cops bad?

According to these recordings:

A cop was filmed shooting an unarmed man in his back and charged with murder, Because it's hard to argue that.

Then a cop was filmed pulling a man out of a burning car just in time.

Ten seconds longer, that man would have been charred.

Are all cops bad?

With a badge and a car?

Are all cops bad in the eyes of the law?

Or better yet, in the eyes of the poor?

Black lives matter
more and more.

A black man killed two innocent cops and then himself.

Does that even the score?

He said he did it for Michael Brown.

Now tell me how that sounds?

And he even shot his girl before all that went down.

In your eyes, is he a hero or a clown?

A cop killed a man, claiming he thought he grabbed his taser.

Then two weeks later, he vacationed in Malaysia.

A cop stopped a man from cutting people with a razor.

Some cops are bad, but some cops are saviors.

I guess it all depends on that cop's behavior.
